

BELFAST SUMMER SCHOOL IN LATIN & CLASSICAL GREEK

Queen's University Belfast
16th – 21st July 2018

BELFAST SUMMER SCHOOL IN LATIN & CLASSICAL GREEK

The third summer school will take place in July 2018 in Queen's University Belfast.

Courses are available in Latin at beginners, intermediate and advanced levels, and Classical Greek at beginners, lower intermediate and intermediate levels.

Classes will be small, with a maximum of 12 students.

There will be two hours of teaching each morning, at 10-11am and 12 noon-1pm, Monday to Friday, and afternoon classes from 2.30-3.30pm on Monday and Wednesday, allowing time for private study between sessions.

On Tuesday and Thursday there will be optional afternoon sessions with invited guest speakers.

In 2018, translation workshops will be held on the morning of Saturday 21st July.

COURSES OFFERED IN 2018

LATIN

Latin for beginners: no previous knowledge required.

Latin (intermediate): Students with a basic knowledge of Latin are asked to include on their application form details of courses already completed and textbooks used. The course will be tailored to meet the needs of students, and tutors will be using a variety of resources including Wheelock's Latin. Students are asked to buy a small Latin-English/English-Latin dictionary (for example, the Collins Gem Latin Dictionary).

Latin (advanced): Advanced classes will read an unadapted text. Students should provide details about their reading on their application form.

CLASSICAL GREEK

Classical Greek for beginners: no previous knowledge required however students are required to learn the Greek alphabet before commencing the course. Instructions and a worksheet will be provided.

Classical Greek (lower intermediate): This course is suitable for students who have completed the beginners course or who have some acquaintance with the language. Applicants are asked to include on their application form details of courses already completed and textbooks used. Resources used will include Athenaze and Reading Greek.

Classical Greek (intermediate): This course is suitable for students who wish to complete or consolidate their study of basic grammar. Applicants are asked to include on their application form details of courses already completed and textbooks used. The course will be tailored to the needs of students and resources used will include Athenaze and Reading Greek.

Students of both languages will be provided with worksheets and handouts. It is not necessary to purchase a textbook.

TRANSLATION WORKSHOPS

On Saturday 21st July at 10am, translation workshops have been arranged. These are available for summer school students at a reduced rate.

There will be beginners and intermediate Latin and Greek options and the texts used will be tailored to the work completed in each of the summer school classes. Students who have completed the beginners course will translate adapted texts, while intermediate students will translate texts which have been only slightly adapted.

The Translation Workshops are also open to those who have not attended the summer school but who have the appropriate ability.

For summer school students the workshops are available at a reduced rate of £7 (£10 for those who have not completed the summer school).

PROGRAMME

On Monday and Wednesday, there will be three teaching sessions, two on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Time is allocated in between sessions for independent study. On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons there will be optional lectures (speakers to be confirmed) which will be open to the general public.

The Summer School dinner will take place on Thursday evening at 5.30pm (venue to be confirmed). The dinner is optional. A deposit will be requested on the first day of the summer school and the remainder of payment is payable to the venue.

Summer School will conclude on Friday at 1pm with the presentation of certificates of attendance.

The Translation Workshops will be held on Saturday 21st July, beginning at 10am.
